"Dylan, please.." You mumbled, slipping your fingers through his long hair as he willingly dragged his mouth down your slit. "Dyl.." You continued, enveloping both your hands into his hair as he raised his head to overlook your moist flesh. His mouth dove for your overstimulated nerves, lapping at it with his tongue as you sighed ontop of him while tugging on his dark blonde locks. "Relax, baby.." He murmured, reaching out for your thighs almost reassuringly as he pushed his tongue back inside. You threw your head back with a sigh while running your hands through his hair, letting him caress your entire slit with his tongue for another minute or so until he pulled away to mutter, "Lay back.." You shook your head and bounced ontop his chest, making him chuckle as you clamped your hands down on the back of his neck. "Okay.." He mumbled, smiling as he lowered his head again to reattach his lips to your slit while releasing a stiffened breath from his nostrils. One of your thighs twitched as you trembled ontop of his lap, earning his attention as he clasped at it while gliding his tongue along your stimulation and leaking slit. "Dyl, I can't.." You mumbled in a shaky breath, digging your knees into his chest before letting out a gasp when he pushed you onto your back. "Dyl.." You repeated, gasping again when he adamantly brought his head in between your legs to aggressively suck and kiss at your throbbing and moist pussy. You raised your hips a few times, whimpering underneath him until he peered up at you to mutter, "You ready?" You nodded, grasping at his thighs as he sat up with a grunt and deep sigh. He then tugged his jeans and boxers down to his knees before exchanging a glance with you as he stroked at your bare stomach with a murmured voice. "You want me?" You nodded again, blushing down at his hard cock right as he pulled you forward to place you back onto his lap. "Spread em' baby.." He mumbled, dropping his eyes to your thighs as you peered down at him while spreading them apart. He straightened his back as his cock brushed against your entrance, meeting your eyes when you whined from his action. You then ran your slit along his cock, squealing when he grasped at one of your hips before pushing past your entrance with a blush. "Dylaan!" You cried, moaning when he covered your mouth with one hand with a chuckle before thrusting. Your moans grew inaudible under his palm as he thrust, eventually stopping when he whined underneath you while mumbling, "Move, baby.." You reluctantly moved your hips, biting at your lip as another moan threatened to escape at the feel of his cock thrusting in and out of you. He threw his head back a few times, mumbling under his breath as he brought both hands onto your waist. "Faster.." You rocked your hips faster, releasing a string of mewls as you rode him without a second thought. "Yeaaah.. that's it." He sighed, raising his hips as you clenched down on him. You blushed and lowered your gaze away from him shyly, yelping when he abruptly began to thrust harder. "Ow, Dylan.." You mumbled, moaning while reaching out to clasp at his thighs again as he glanced up at you with a slightly flushed expression. His arms wrapped around you, securing you in place as he straightened his back again to pull you into his chest while hooking his jaw over your shoulder. Your fingers remained on his thighs as he lowered his head, embracing you in a hug before trailing his lips down to your back. "Dyl?" You gutted out, feeling suffocated by his weight as he lifted one of your arms to extend his kisses down to your lower back. "My little goddess.." He murmured, causing a moan to leave your lips right as he raised his head to look at you. Your eyes met as he peered down at you while cupping at your cheek, taking in your expression as you whimpered and writhed ontop of him.

"Dylan.." You muttered, grunting and whining as he glanced down at you before placing kisses along your face. You wrapped your arms around him, slowing your movements as he pressed one firm kiss to your temple before cranking his neck to lay kisses ontop both of your breasts. "Faster.." He whispered, raising his mouth to your ear as you rocked your aching hips forward with a mewl. His lips quirked as he pressed a soft kiss to your forehead, followed by his arms shifting around your waist as he placed both his hands back onto your hips. You peered up at him with a few disgruntled whines, meeting his intense gaze as your knees attempted to give out. He then pushed you onto your back again, grunting as you clenched down on him while stopping your movements. He tilt his head and eyed you as you peered up at him yet again, whimpering as he leaned in to attach his mouth to yours. A moan escaped your lips as he kissed you, muffling against his as he grasped the back of your head. He groaned, slipping his fingers through your hair as he increased the pressure of his kisses while picking up the pace of his thrusts. You clenched down on him again, throbbing too when he detached his mouth from yours to wrap his forearm around your neck. You stared up at him helplessly, feeling twice as aroused as he glanced down at you while snatching a pair of handcuffs from his desk drawer. You continued to silently stare back at him, letting your arms fall to your sides as he raised the cuffs to your wrists with a strangled breath before locking them into place. He then threw your arms back, extending them past your head as the opposite cuffs met with the end of the bed. "Dylan?" You questioned, peering up at him while tugging at the restraints. He leant forward with a moan as he reattached his mouth to yours, sighing deep within his nostrils as you writhed again underneath him. ".You look so good." He mumbled, slowing his kisses in order to savor each one as you grew unable to touch him. You whined against his lips as he pulled away to overlook your naked and submissive body, emitting a rumble deep in his chest as you continued to peer up at him with a string of whines. He chuckled, grinning down at you for a quick moment as his hands dove for your abdomen and breasts. "You like that?" He asked, mumbling as he groped at both your breasts while stroking at your stomach. "Huh?" He continued, exchanging another glance with you as you squirmed and grumbled underneath him. "Yes.." You mumbled back, making him laugh again as he picked up the pace of his thrusts one last time. His long fingers caressed at your body as you groaned underneath him, massaging at your breasts and tweaking at your nipples as you seethed and whined under his laughter. "You're such a little angel.." He commented, pressing a handful of kisses to your face as you raised your hips a few times in order to reach orgasm. Your vision grew blurry as you tried to glance up at him, pausing with a uncomfortable expression as he giggled down at you while rubbing at your overstimulation. "Dylan.." You mumbled warily, sighing as your chest grew heavy from his touches. He hummed, riding out the last of his thrusts as he stared down at you to take in your expression as you unraveled underneath him. You stuttered a string of incoherent rambles while lifting your hips from the bed, throwing your head back as he grunted ontop of you while trying to hold himself up. "..(Y/N)." He whispered, groaning under his breath as he grabbed at your hips with a couple whimpering sounds. "I'm close.." Your eyes rolled back in your head as you crashed against his bed, hearing his voice grow more and more distant.

"..(Y/N), baby.." He mumbled, sighing as he lowered his head into your neck with another string of whimpers. You released a long sigh too as he trailed kisses along your jaw, focusing your eyes on his alarm clock as he buried his head into your chest to kiss and caress at your breasts with a needy moan. "Dyl.." You whispered, tugging at the cuffs as he turned away from your gaze with a blush. "Please.." He grunt as he thrust into you harder, spraying into you within seconds as he chased his own orgasm. He groaned and released a strangled breath as he hovered above you, holding himself up as he undid the cuffs around your wrists before collapsing ontop of your small body. You sighed in relief while immediately wrapping both your arms around him, nuzzling your face into his neck as he balled his fists with a contorted expression. "Pull out.." You murmured, feeling your thighs twitch as he removed his cock from you while dropping his head into your own neck to catch his breath. "I love you.." You mumbled, making him whine as he clung to you like a koala. You stroked at his face as you felt yourself leak onto our thighs, slipping your fingers back through his dark blonde hair as he stared down at you with a entranced expression. "We should actually go to sleep now.." You murmured, staring back at him tiredly before gasping as he took your face into his hands to press a passionate and loving kiss to your lips. "I know.." He mumbled, glancing down at you as he stroked at your cheek before continuing with, "But I'm not tired.." You ran your hands across his neck while playing with his curls as he stared down at you with a smile, giggling at his flushed face before mumbling, "Sorry for waking you up.." He laughed and pressed a kiss your temple and forehead, muttering in his usual low voice. "It's okay, babygirl.."
